

Checklist to “Be Pet Prepared” in case your health is compromised

- Two week supply of food and medicines
- Identify 2 people that could care for your pets.
- Have a written plan for each pet that includes: feeding schedule and amount, medical needs, vaccination status, contact for your vet.

I was thinking this space could be used for the LISTOS logo, OES logo ?, 2-1-1 info, maybe the FB group Siskiyou County Neighbors . 211norcal web address etc.

If we put that info here then in a hurry they wouldn't have to open up the tri-fold.

Including Pets in Your Emergency Preparedness Plans-COVID-19

Be Pet Prepared

Currently there is NO EVIDENCE that you can contract COVID-19 from your pets. It is important to plan ahead and protect your pets in case your own health is compromised..

Just like in the case of wildfire, earthquake, or flood you could experience a health emergency that would compromise your ability to care for your pets.

A Pet Preparedness Plan for sheltering in home or in case you become ill is essential for ensuring your pets wellness and safety.

Planning ahead can spare your pets of unnecessary stress, ensure shelter resources do not become overwhelmed or put your pets at risk of being lost or forgotten as others care for you.

Developing Your Pet Plan

- ◆ Identify 2 trusted friends or family that can have access to your home. Let them know and share their information.
- ◆ Prepare a 2 week supply of food, medicine, kitty litter.
- ◆ Have toys, beds, carriers and crates on hand.
- ◆ Have copies of your pets medical records, medication schedule, veterinary contact information.

- ◆ Detailed care instructions (diet, walking schedule any important behavior notes.
- ◆ Ensure your pet has collar ID and a REGISTERED Microchip with up to date information. This can be done for free at www.foundanimals.org
- ◆ Print out and place on your doors and windows a “Pet Inside” card or sticker so others will know in case of emergency.
- ◆ Have an Emergency Pet Authorization form filled out and provided to your emergency contact people.
